

COLLABORATIVE AGREEMENT TO PROVIDE NAVAL ROTC INSTRUCTION TO STUDENTS OF CLEARWATER CHRISTIAN COLLEGE, CLEARWATER, FLORIDA

THIS AGREEMENT is among the governing institutional authorities of the UNIVERSITY OF SOUTH FLORIDA IN TAMPA, FLORIDA (hereinafter known as Institution A) which hosts a Naval ROTC Unit, the governing authorities of CLEARWATER CHRISTIAN COLLEGE IN CLEARWATER, FLORIDA (hereinafter know as Institution B) which does not host a Naval ROTC Unit, and the Professor of Naval Science, Naval ROTC Unit, CAPT RICHARD L. DICK USN. It is the purpose of this agreement to make the Naval ROTC program available to students of Institution B who meet the requirements of the Program and who desire to earn appointment as commissioned officers in the United States Navy or United States Marine Corps.

AGREEMENT

1. The Professor of Naval Science, Naval ROTC Unit at Institution A will:
 - a. Provide instruction in Naval Science to students from Institution B enrolled in the Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps program concurrently and on the same basis as to students who are enrolled in the Program from Institution A.
 - b. Provide the following academic instruction, normally at Institution A, in Naval Science to students of Institution B enrolled in the Naval ROTC program.
 - (1) Introduction to Naval Science
 - (2) Seapower and Maritime Affairs
 - (3) Naval Ships Systems I (Engineering)
 - (4) Naval Ships Systems II (Weapons)
 - (5) Navigation I
 - (6) Navigation II
 - (7) Evolution of Warfare
 - (8) Leadership and Management
 - (9) Leadership and Ethics
 - (10) Amphibious War
 - (11) Naval Laboratory 100-400

- c. Provide the required uniforms and Naval Science textbooks, at no cost to the student, to those students from Institution B enrolled in the NROTC Program.
 - d. Ensure that subsistence payments are provided in accordance with existing regulations to eligible midshipmen from Institution B enrolled in the NROTC program.
2. The governing institutional authorities at Institution A will accept for instruction in Naval Science those students from Institution B enrolled in the NROTC Program.
 3. The governing institutional authorities in Institution B will:
 - a. Accept all grades awarded by the Department of Naval Science for inclusion in the student's official grade record at Institution B.
 - b. Assign appropriate credit hours Naval Science courses, include these credits in GPA computations, and accept appropriate course credits toward degree requirements at Institution B for Naval Science courses taught at Institution A in accordance with this agreement.
 4. It is understood by Institution A, Institution B, and the Professor of Naval Science, Naval ROTC Unit, CAPT RICHARD L. DICK, USN, that:
 - a. The Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps Program will be administered by the Professor of naval Science, Naval ROTC Unit at Institution A under the guidance and direction of the regulations established by the Department of the Navy.
 - b. Students from Institution B enrolling in Naval Science courses at Institution A in accordance with existing procedures at Institution A and B.
 - c. Membership in drill team, rifle team or other professional development and enrichment activities conducted by the NROTC Unit at Institution A will be open to students from Institution B enrolled in the NROTC Program.
 - d. Chief of Naval Education and Training Scholarships based on nominations by the Professor of Naval Science, Naval ROTC Unit at Institution A are available on an equally competitive basis to students of either institution who are enrolled in the NROTC Program.
 - e. Students at Institution B enrolled in the Naval ROTC Program will be subject to the provisions of Naval ROTC regulations, and infractions of certain of those regulations will be grounds for leave of absence or disenrollment from the NROTC Program.

Placement of a student in a leave of absence or disenrolled status will automatically disallow any claim the student or Institution B may have for reimbursement for tuition, fees, and textbooks subsequent to the effective date of that action and until the student is restored to active status.

- f. Students at Institution B are responsible for making their own arrangements for transportation to and from Institution B for those Naval ROTC activities requiring their attendance.
 - g. Students at Institution B will complete the summer training cruises required by Naval ROTC regulations.
 - h. With the exception of cruises, students at Institution B if enrolled in cooperative work programs will normally be placed on leave of absence while working off campus.
 - i. Normally Naval Science courses will be taught at Institution A. However, Naval Science courses may be taught at Institution B when schedule differences or class size cause instruction at Institution A to be inefficient or impractical. Under these circumstances Institution B agrees to provide clerical assistance and faculty offices and to schedule classrooms as required based upon the number of NROTC enrollees and teaching staff available to the Professor of Naval Science.
5. This agreement may be revised or amended at any time upon consent of the signatories or their authorized representatives. Further, this agreement may be terminated unilaterally by any of the signatories with at least one year written notification.
6. This agreement is approved and becomes effective on January 1, 2003.

Dear Vice Admiral Harms:

On behalf of Clearwater Christian College, I am requesting the consideration of a cross-town affiliation between NROTC, the University of South Florida, and Clearwater Christian College. Please find enclosed with this letter a copy of the required agreement and other appropriate literature.

We were excited to hear of the arrival this year of the NROTC program to the Tampa Bay area and the University of South Florida. Over the past years, we have been quite successful in placing a number of our top students with Air Force and Army ROTC programs; however, we still have a number of prospective students who will consider nothing else but the United States Naval Services. It is our hope that we will be able to direct these quality young men and women to your program in the years to come.

We stand ready to answer any additional concerns that may arise. Thank you for your consideration of our request.

Sincerely yours,

Richard A. Stratton
President
